...cannot take the vaccine and not because they decide not to be vaccinated. I think we have to be fair, he said.

The Coordinating Minister for the National Covid-19 Immunisation Programme said this at a press conference after visiting the Universiti Malaya Medical Centre (PPUM) vaccination centre here today.

He also said the government was still refining the plan to give digital vaccine certificates via the MySejahtera application.

He said the system would provide information to the World Health Organisation (WHO) and other countries so that the certificate would be recognised and used as proof of vaccination.

Meanwhile, he explained that the government was drafting a strategy for the homeless, refugees and undocumented migrants to receive the Covid-19 vaccine.

He said he would hold a meeting with United Nations agencies this week to discuss the best method (of vaccination) for these group.

"Maybe I will also have a coordinating meeting with Kuala Lumpur City Hall (DBKL) about the homeless," he explained.

Khairy also said Health Minister Datuk Seri Adham Baba would announce the protection scheme for the compensation of those who suffered serious side effects from the Covid-19 vaccine jabs at a joint press conference on Monday (March 15).

Commenting on China's Sinovac vaccine, he said the National Pharmaceutical Regulatory Agency (NPRA) of the Ministry of Health (MOH) was carrying out stability testing on the vaccine and that it could take a month to be completed.

"We want to see if there are any flaws to the vaccine when they are bottled here. If approval is given, we can roll out the vaccine by next month," he said.

Malaysia received the Sinovac Covid-19 vaccine on Feb 27.
