Khairy: Malaysia to ramp up COVID-19 vaccinations to 200,000 per day by July

BY ALEXANDER WONG 3:09 PM, 1 JUNE 2021 LEAVE A COMMENT

As Malaysia is going through a challenging phase with over 6,000 new COVID-19 cases daily and over 1,200 COVID-19 deaths recorded in May alone, there's an urgent need to ramp up vaccinations. Khairy Jamaluddin who is also the coordinating minister in the vaccination efforts has provided an update on the next steps to increase vaccinations.

According to Khairy, Malaysia is currently hitting 100,000 vaccinations per day and it aims to double this figure in July. With the arrival of larger vaccine doses, Malaysia is expected to hit its target of 150 000 vaccinations per day in June

Although the original target is to vaccinate 80% of the population by end of this year, he was instructed by Prime Minister Muhyiddin Yassin to achieve the target earlier ahead of schedule. He said Malaysia has renegotiated its vaccine delivery schedule to expedite the delivery.

Khairy said Malaysia will receive the entire 12 million doses of Sinovac vaccine order by the end of July. Meanwhile, 25 million doses of Pfizer vaccines will be received in the third quarter of this year.

The single-dose CanSino Bio vaccine from China is still being evaluated by health regulators. So far there's no word on the Sputnik V vaccines.

More mobile vaccination centres to increase vaccine access

Besides opening up mega vaccination centres that can do 5,000 to 10,000 vaccinations per day, the government is also increasing the number of GP clinics that can administer the COVID-19 vaccine. At the moment, over 2,500 private clinics have registered as well as 116 private hospitals.

As mentioned previously, drive-thru vaccination centres will be introduced as well as mobile outreach teams at the state level. He said these mobile teams will be mobilised to care homes for the elderly and the disabled, as well as kampungs, homeless shelters, orang asli villages and difficult to reach areas.

Khairy also said there will be continued coordination between federal and state governments on accelerating the vaccine rollout. The COVID-19 immunisation task force will also empower states and districts to implement the vaccination programme in order to overcome their unique local challenges.

In addition, he also said Malaysia will start vaccinating industries and economic sectors that have to remain open during the MCO as people who are out and about working need to be vaccinated.

The Minister said he understands the frustrations of the people who are waiting to be vaccinated and the COVID-19 task force will continue to accelerate the rate of vaccination to ensure that we can protect as many people as possible, as quickly as possible.
