from pregnant women who want to be vaccinated.

“CITF also received over 100,000 applications from expectant mothers — 98,196 is the exact figure — for their vaccination. The appointments are being issued in stages according to the estimated date of delivery, whereby last weekend, we gave 3,000 appointments in Kuala Lumpur and 224 in Perlis,” he said.

Khairy added that this weekend, a special session for pregnant women will be done in Kuala Lumpur and Perlis, with applications from other states currently being processed.

He said that more appointments would be issued in the coming weeks.
