"For sure (beginning) July will be a critical period for PICK," he said in a 7.46-minute video recording today on developments on the national vaccination programme, which was launched in February.

To ensure that the challenges of the coming months could be handled in a smooth and organised manner, the nationwide vaccination capacity would be increased with the opening of more vaccination centres (PPVs) and deployment of additional healthcare personnel and volunteers, he added.

So far 1,400 PPVs are in operation throughout the country. Apart from Mega PPVs, many other types of vaccination centres have also been opened, such as those at Orang Asli settlements, places of worship, schools, universities, community halls, workplaces and plantation areas, apart from the house-to-house vaccination drive, he said.

This means the number of first-dose recipients increased by 200 percent in June, said Khairy, who is also Science, Technology and Innovation Minister.

On vaccination of senior citizens, he said 60 percent of them had received at least one dose and the 100 percent target was expected to be achieved by year-end.

He gave an assurance that service quality at PPVs would be improved and the MySejahtera application would be upgraded. — Bernama
