

06 OCT, 2021

Three families receive aid after losing homes in flood

Borneo Post (KK), Malaysia

Noraini (left) presenting the contribution from Umno Penampang Women's movement to one of the victims.

Three families receive aid after losing homes in flood

KOTA KINABALU: Three families in Kampung Manantani Koidupan, Sugud Penampang who lost their homes in the flood last month, received aid from several quarters, including Umno Penampang Women movement.

Noraini Idris who is Umno Sabah Women information chief and Umno Penampang Women chief, said that the assistance provided whether by the government, NGOs, corporate companies and individuals to the flood victims in Penampang reflects the solidarity and spirit of 'Keluarga Malaysia' as well as their concern for the rakyat in the state.

She said that the three families are currently living in tents and temporary shelters while waiting for their houses to be rebuilt.

Noraini who is also Science, Technology and Innovation Minister's political secretary, disclosed that the government with the collaboration of NGOs have contributed to the new houses.

"We hope the government's efforts through the Local Government and Housing Ministry and NGOs in providing and building new houses for these families will be able to ease their burden and bring some relief to their lives," added Noraini.

06 OCT, 2021

Three families receive aid after losing homes in flood

Borneo Post (KK), Malaysia

Page 2 of 2

SUMMARIES

Noraini (left) presenting the contribution from Umno Penampang Women's movement to one of the victims.

KOTA KINABALU: Three families in Kampung Manantani Koidupan, Sugud Penampang who lost their homes in the flood last month, received aid from several quarters, including Umno Penampang Women movement.