

THE COMPUTER AND RELATED SERVICES SUBSECTOR

The Computer and Related Services Subsector is part of the ICT Services Sector. The subsector comprises the following services:

841 Consultancy services related to the installation of computer hardware

8410 84100 Consultancy services related to the installation of computer hardware

Assistance services to the clients in the installation of computer hardware (i.e. physical equipment) and computer networks.

842 Software implementation services

All services involving consultancy services on, development and implementation of software. The term "software" may be defined as the sets of instructions required to make computers work and communicate. A number of different programmes may be developed for specific applications (application software), and the customer may have a choice of using ready-made programmes off the shelf (packaged software), developing specific programmes for particular requirements (customized software) or using a combination of the two.

8421 84210 Systems and software consulting services

Services of a general nature prior to the development of data processing systems and applications. It might be management services, project planning services, etc.

8422 84220 Systems analysis services

Analysis services include analysis of the clients' needs, defining functional specification, and setting up the team. Also involved are project management, technical coordination and integration and definition of the systems architecture.

8423 84230 Systems design services

Design services include technical solutions, with respect to methodology, quality-assurance, choice of equipment software packages or new technologies, etc.

8424 84240 Programming services

Programming services include the implementation phase, i.e. writing and debugging programmes, conducting tests, and editing documentation.

8425 84250 Systems maintenance services

Maintenance services include consulting and technical assistance services of software products in use, rewriting or changing existing programmes or systems, and maintaining up-to-date software documentation and manuals. Also included are specialist work, e.g. conversions.

843 Data processing services

8431 84310 Input preparation services

Data recording services such as key punching, optical scanning or other methods for data entry.

8432 84320 Data-processing and tabulation services

Services such as data processing and tabulation services, computer calculating services, and rental services of computer time.

8433 84330 Time-sharing services

This seems to be the same type of services as 84320. Computer time only is bought; if it is bought from the customer's premises, telecommunications services are also bought. Data processing or tabulation services may also be bought from a service bureau. In both cases the services might be time sharing processed. Thus, there is no clear distinction between 84320 and 84330.

8439 84390 Other data processing services

Services which manage the full operations of a customer's facilities under contract: computer-room environmental quality control services; management services of in-place computer equipment combinations; and management services of computer work flows and distributions.

844 Database services

8440 84400 Database services

All services provided from primarily structured databases through a communication network.

Exclusions: Data and message transmission services (e.g. network operation services, value-added network services) are classified in class 7523 (Data and message transmission services).

Documentation services consisting in information retrieval from databases are classified in subclass 96311 (Library services).

845 Maintenance and repair services of office machinery and equipment including computers

8450 84500 Maintenance and repair services of office machinery and equipment including computers

Repair and maintenance services of office machinery, computers and related equipment.

849 Other computer services - Data preparation services; training services for staff of clients, Data recovery services; and development of creative content

LIBERALISATION OF THE COMPUTER AND RELATED SERVICES SUBSECTOR

On April 22, 2009 the Government had further liberalised this subsector to attract more foreign investments and bring more professionals and technology, as well as strengthen competitiveness. There are NO equity requirements imposed on service providers intending to establish commercial presence.

APPROVALS FOR ESTABLISHMENT

Service providers intending to provide Computer And Related Services are required to undertake the following:-

- Incorporate a company under the Companies Act, 1965 (go to http://www.ssm.com.my/en/services_registration.php for more information)
- Under the Service Tax Act, 1975, and the Service Tax Regulations, 1975, companies which provide management consultancy services in the ICT industry and generate a total annual sales turnover of RM150,000 or more are required to obtain a Service Tax Licence.

These companies include those providing consultancy services in the purchase of computers, the implementation of software development, and the selection of a systems integrator, as well as other consultancy services that involve the provision of independent professional services and advice, including advice on business strategies, organisational set-ups and future directions of the company.

However, consultancy services that are provided by a company to other companies within the same group are exempted from the Service Tax.

Applications should be submitted to the Royal Customs Department.

LICENCES

Licences Issued by Local Authorities - Business Premise And Signboard Licence

Service providers intending to set up an office may require a business premise licence and a signboard licence from the respective local authorities, depending on the nature of the business activity.

The requirements to obtain a business premise licence and a signboard licence may vary according to each local authority. Applicants are advised to contact the local authority where the company will be located.
